Program Details:

- Program Name: Ph.D. Research Course Work Presentation
- Date: May 22, 2023
- Number of Participants: 18

Objective:

The Ph.D. Research Course Work Presentation held on May 22, 2023, was designed to provide a platform for Ph.D. students to present and discuss their research course work. The primary objective was to assess the progress of the Ph.D. candidates and provide them with an opportunity to present their work to peers, faculty, and experts.

Participant Information:

A total of 18 Ph.D. students actively participated in the Research Course Work Presentation, demonstrating their commitment to advancing their research and showcasing their course work progress.

Program Highlights:

The event was organized with the following key components:

1. Individual Presentations: Each of the 18 participants had the opportunity to present their research course work. These presentations allowed them to share the progress, findings, and methodologies used in their research.
2. Faculty Evaluation: Faculty members with expertise in the respective research areas evaluated the presentations. Their assessment provided valuable feedback and acknowledged the quality of the research course work.
